State vs. County Roads Debate by Faubus and McMath on TV Schedule

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A wide difference over the county road program continued between Gov. Orval E. Faubus and former Gov. Sid McMath Thursday night as the Arkansas gubernatorial campaign intensified in heat.

McMath, appearing on his nightly five-minute telecast, defended his proposed program that Arkansas begin a $6 million year county road program by taking advantage of federal matching funds.

But Faubus, also appearing on television, charged that taking funds from the state Highway Department and giving them to the counties not only would weaken the road program but also delay it.

Rep. Dale Aford spoke Thursday night at Fort Smith where he renewed his charge that both Faubus and McMath were equally to blame for highway audit scandals during McMath's tenure in office.

Kenneth Coffelt appeared at a fish fry in Blytheville and reiterated his position that neither Aford nor McMath could defeat Faubus in a runoff.

David A. Cox of Weiner was arrested late Thursday night at Springfield and accused of public intoxication. Springfield police said residents complained of noise from Cox's campaign car.

Patrolman Stanley Black said the arresting officer, Edward Terry, found Cox standing beside the car, unable to drive. He was to appear in municipal court today for arraignment.

Vernon Whitten spent most of Thursday in Little Rock where he expressed the confidence that Faubus would be in an Aug. 14 runoff and "I am equally confident that I will be his opposition."

Faubus, who said he had to use television to reach his audience because state-circulated newspapers gave him a virtual "blackout," noted that during his administration some 1,000 miles of county roads have been built while on 200 miles of such roads came into being under McMath.

The incumbent governor also discounted the notion raised by some of his opponents that he has become a millionaire since assuming office nearly eight years ago.

Regarding the alleged news blackout, Faubus said his Wednesday night appearance at Morrilton drew a crowd estimated at 3,000 but no attention was given to the fact by newspapers.

At Morrilton, Faubus announced that "a $50 million plant will be coming into this area soon."

However, he refused to divulge either the name of product of the industry, saying such information

Gen. Norstad Resigns as NATO Chief

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy accepted today the resignation of Gen. Lauris Norstad as supreme Allied commander in Europe and chief of NATO forces.

The White House had nothing to say immediately as to a successor.

Reports were circulating that Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the U.S. joint chiefs of staff, might replace Norstad. But there also was talk of Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, now presidential military adviser.

Norstad has held the Allied position with headquarters in Paris since 1956. He is known as a strong advocate of increasing unity among the Western European Allies and between them and the United States.

Word that the general has submitted his resignation came first from the newspaper Le Monde in Paris.

Norstad said in a letter to Kennedy: "We live in a time of continuing crisis, but for the moment, at least, there is no unusual pressure on my office. I request therefore that I be relieved of my assignment . . . on or about 1 Nov. 1962."

The chief executive replied in a letter.

"Dear Larry," letter voicing deep regret at Norstad's decision to step out of uniform after 36 years and also lavishing high praise on a man he said has had a military assignment of unparalleled importance to the defense of the free world.

Kennedy said he knows of no one who has been better able to bear the burdens and that Norstad has become "a living symbol of the United States commitment to the Alliance and of the strength of the Alliance itself."

British to Hear Plea for Soblen

LONDON (AP)—The British Court of Appeal today agreed to consider Dr. Robert Soblen's plea to be set free in Britain instead of being sent back to the United States to face life imprisonment as a Russian spy.

The hearing was set for next Thursday.

Farm Hand Killed on Rail Bridge

TRUMANN, Ark. (AP)—Kenneth Wayne Woods, 21, a farm laborer from Trumann, was killed early today when a Frisco freight train ran over him on a trestle in north Trumann.

Poinsett County Coroner Paul Thompson quoted the train engineer, Cecil Smith, as saying he saw Woods lying between the rails just before the train passed over him.

Woods died of a fractured skull, Thompson said, and also suffered a broken leg and arm injury.

Thompson said he did not know why Woods was on the tracks. He said he could see no indication of foul play.

Gen. Motors Hits High on Sales, Net

NEW YORK (AP)—General Motors Corp. reported today sales and earnings in both the second quarter and first half of 1962 were at record levels.

Net income for the quarter set a record for the third consecutive quarterly period, totaling $402 million compared with $74 million in this year's first quarter and $252 million in the April-June quarter of 1961. On a per share basis—also a record—net was equal to $1.41 in the second quarter again at $1.31 in the first three months of this year and 88 cents in the second quarter last year.

Sales for the quarter climbed to $4.02 billion from $3.5 billion—the previous high—in the first quarter of this year and compared with $3.08 billion from April through June in 1961.

U. S. Ends 6.3 Billions in the Red

By EDMOND LEBRETON

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress appeared pleased today but hardly excited at word that the government wound up its 1962 bookkeeping year with a budget deficit of $700 million less than estimated in January. The final red ink figure was $6.3 billion.

None of the House members who commented on the development thought the moderately pleasant fiscal news would have much influence on any decision for an income tax cut now or later.

Some thought, however, that even a modest reduction in the deficit would calm the nervousness of foreign holders of U.S. dollar and therefore help the balance of payments deficit.

Announcing the fiscal 1962 deficit, the Treasury said Thursday both income and spending were overestimated in January, when a $7-billion deficit was projected.

Spending on defense, space, foreign and national security programs was down $248 million and other government agencies spent $1.1 billion less than anticipated.

But corporate income and other business-linked revenues were down also, more than offsetting a rise in personal income tax yield.

Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, House Republican leader, expressed the reaction of many colleagues when he shrugged off the improvement in the deficit figure as too small to make any difference in anyone's plans.

Some high-placed Democrats privately agreed. One, who would not be quoted, said the difference is within the margin of error with which all treasury projections should be treated. But he added: "Anyway, I'm glad it wasn't off in the other direction."

The deficit is the largest in peacetime except for two years—1959 when the government was $12.4 billion in the red and 1953 when a $9.4 billion deficit reflected the peak spending of the Korean fighting.

Unions Take Up Proposed Railroad Cut

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The heads of five railroad unions met today to decide what to do about management plans to effect economies which the unions say would result in eliminating 80,000 jobs.

A spokesman for the nation's railroads has set Aug. 1 for putting into effect the disputed work rule changes. The railroads say the changes will eliminate 40,000 men's jobs—13,000 of them during the next year—but challenge the union estimate of 80,000 jobs as being too high.

The unions are expected to issue a strike call before the effective date of the work rule changes, which were recommended five months ago by a presidential commission. The dispute then may go to the White House, with President Kennedy calling an emergency board to study the issues and recommend settlement.

The railroads contend the work rules, which have not undergone a complete revision for more than 40 years, force them to keep men on the payrolls who are not needed. The unions deny the featherbedding charge and contend the proposed changes will mean longer hours and less pay for some 200,000 on-train workers, including engineers, firemen, switchmen, brakemen and conductors. The unions say the firemen are needed for safe operation of the trains.

A union spokesman said an estimated 20,000 jobs would be lost by a change breaking down the distinction between road and yard service for train crews.

He disputed a statement by J. E. Wolfe, chairman of the railroads' bargaining committee, that the changes would result in raises for 75 per cent of the operating employees.

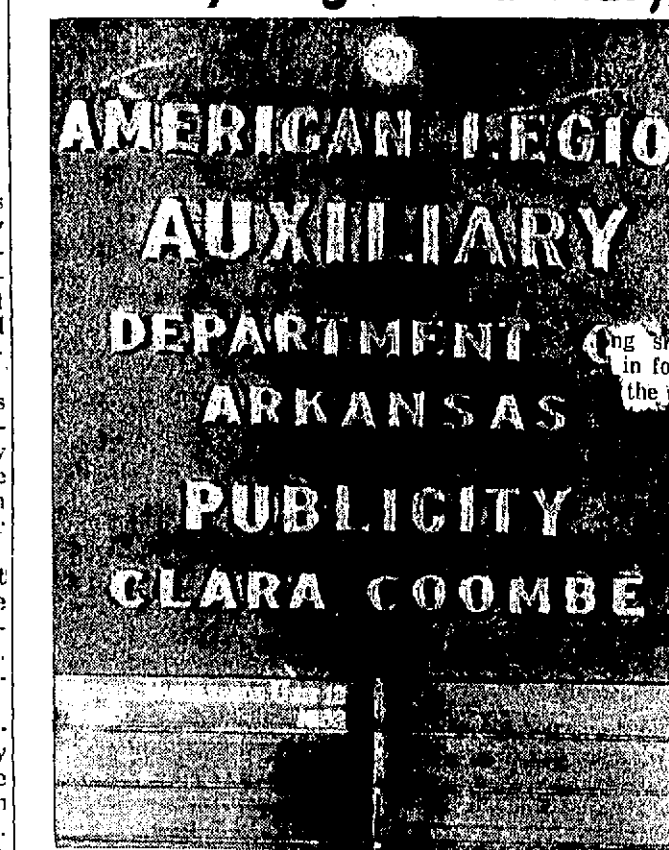

A majority of the locomotive engineers would take pay cuts of up to 60 per cent, the union spokesman said.

Jobs would be lost also by other changes, including one that would eliminate requirements for changing crews at specified points, the spokesman said.

Some 180 railroads are involved in the dispute.

Unions involved at the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, the Order of Railway Conductors and Brakemen, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Switchmen's Union and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

Rowe Denies Will to Mrs. Dunlap

Testifying in his own behalf in Hempstead Circuit Court this morning on the second day of the slander case brought against him by one of his congregation, Rev. Lacie Rowe, pastor of the Gospel Lighthouse Church, denied he had made reflections against Mrs. Gracie Dunlap, the plaintiff.

On direct examination by his attorney, Albert Graves, the Rev. Mr. Rowe said Mrs. Dunlap, then Gracie Dickerson, in December 1959 was about to marry H. M. Dunlap, and did marry him; and Rev. Mr. Rowe felt that it was his pastoral and moral obligation as Mrs. Dickerson's pastor to oppose that marriage. He testified that he informed Mrs. Dickerson that Mr. Dunlap had been living with his divorced ex-wife and therefore it was wrong for Mrs. Dickerson to marry him.

Rev. Rowe said from the stand that he always had Mrs. Dickerson's interest at heart, recalling that she was a charter member of the church, played the church piano, and loaned money with which to buy the lot on which the church building was erected.

The witness recalled that he first visited Mrs. Dickerson in her home to oppose her marriage to Mr. Dunlap, that the issue then spread to the congregation, and finally matters reached the point where either she or the preacher had to leave the church—a view which others forced upon him, the Rev. Mr. Rowe said.

He said he finally agreed to a vote of the congregation, stipulating that if the vote went against him he would resign as pastor. However, the congregation sustained him and voted against the plaintiff the preacher continued.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the Rev. Mr. Rowe was still on the stand, being cross-examined by W. S. Atkins, attorney for Mrs. Dunlap.

The plaintiff's case was completed early this morning with presentation of testimony by the last of 12 witnesses, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Melusky of Palms.

Court Rules UN Nations Must Pay

THE HAGUE (AP)—The International Court of Justice advised the United Nations today that all its members should pay for U.N. peace-keeping operations.

By a 9-5 vote the 14 high judges decided that U.N. members, such as the Soviet Union, France and most of the Arab States in arrears on assessments for the costs of peace-keeping operations amounting to $80 million, should pay up.

Railroaders Sue Missouri Pacific

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Twenty-five railroad union members initiated federal court action Thursday, seeking to regain their jobs with Missouri Pacific Railroad which they lost March 19, 1961 when the railroad reduced its labor force. The former employees contend they received only six days notice of the layoff. They also allege the railroad violated a 1960 consolidation agreement by its action.

McGehee Man Is Hardware Head

NEW ORLEANS, Ark. (AP)—Joe B. Baker of McGehee, Ark., was elected president of the National Retail Hardware Association here Thursday.

"If we should follow what Barry Goldwater advocates—building up a big Army and doing away with income tax—we would have a revolution," he said.

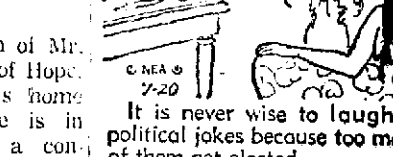

Fulbright said the senator from South Carolina was "a reactionary and a dangerous radical."

would have to come from the company.

McMath denied that his highway program would retard progress of the primary and secondary road system because money allocated under it would be strictly supervised by the federal Bureau of Public Roads.

At Fort Smith, Alford noted that Paulus had been highway director under McMath and was responsible for "the cost of the highways being 28 per cent more than they should have been."

Theoretically, he asked "How can he (Paulus) blame anyone else when at least a part of the real responsibility was his?"

The Little Rock congressman said that an advertisement placed in a Texarkana newspaper was brought to his attention noting that both he and Paulus would appear together on the same platform July 24 in the southwest Arkansas border city.

He acknowledged that he is looking forward to debating the governor.

"Surely the people of the state have nothing to lose by such a debate," Alford commented.

Coffelt, who has waged a tireless campaign throughout the state, continues to be plagued by throat trouble.

His wife, who acts as Coffelt's campaign manager, said Thursday the Little Rock attorney may have to curtail the number of appearances "if his throat doesn't improve."

Traveling by car, Coffelt has campaigned at hundreds of rural communities, often on the go from before sunrise until well into

26 Die in Arabian Air Line Crash

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—A United Arab Airlines jet with 26 persons aboard crashed into a jungle-covered mountain in central Thailand Thursday night and an American military search party reported its first check today indicated there were no survivors.

Three of the 18 passengers aboard the British-built Comet IV were Americans—Mrs. Virginia Gilbertson of Bradford Woods, Pittsburgh, Pa., her daughter Christine and her son Eric.

The American family was on route to the United States from Tokyo, where Mrs. Gilbertson's husband, Dennis, represents the the Blaw-Knox Steel Company of Pittsburgh. They had booked passage on the plane at the last minute when their flight with another airline was cancelled.

Gilbertson accompanied his family to Hong Kong and had planned to return to Tokyo today. Friends in Hong Kong said he would leave for Bangkok tonight.

Three Asian newsmen were reported aboard the crashed Comet, on their way to Cairo as guests of the United Arab Republic government. Several other Tokyo and Hong Kong newsmen who were scheduled to make the trip to Cairo postponed their departure at the last minute.

The jetliner flight originated in Tokyo with Cairo the final destination after stopovers in Hong Kong, Bangkok, Bombay and Kuwait.

The pilot of the jetliner radioed Bangkok's airport he was preparing to land when he was 20 minutes away. That was the last word from the plane. The weather was relatively clear at the time.

A U.S. Army helicopter sighted the wreckage on the side of a 4,500-foot peak in the Khao Yai range about 50 miles northeast of Bangkok and landed near the crash site.

American search planes and helicopters were sent out from the big Thai military center at Korat, headquarters of the U.S. task force stationed in Thailand.

Welfare Bill on JFK's Desk

WASHINGTON (AP)—An administration bill aimed at encouraging families on the relief rolls to make themselves self-sustaining finally has reached President Kennedy's desk.

The Senate sent it to the White House Thursday night by voice vote after brief debate. The House had approved the measure earlier in the day 357 to 34.

The final $300-million version gives the President most of what he wanted in the way of revised welfare laws.

But the legislators added a congressional favorite of the last decade—an increase in federal matching funds available for monthly relief checks.

When the bill reached the Senate floor late last month the administration decided to try to hitch onto it the President's social security health care plan for the aged. This failed Tuesday on a 52-48 vote.

Considering only the welfare law changes, Abraham Ribicoff hailed the measure as the most important of his 18 months as secretary of welfare.

The bill is of high importance to a number of states because it extends retroactively to July 1 a program of federal funds for payments to unemployed parents of dependent children. This means they will be reimbursed for expenditures made under this program so far this month.

Other key provisions will: —Effective Oct. 1, increase by $4 a month per recipient federal matching funds for the needy aged, blind and disabled programs. —Raise from 50 to 75 per cent the federal share of the cost of training programs aimed at rehabilitation of relief recipients. —Authorize states to set up work and training programs for able-bodied relief recipients. —Make available federal aid for day care of children of working mothers. —Allow the states to disregard age assistance recipient, plus half the first $10 earned by an old of the next $40, in figuring his monthly relief payment.

headquarters in western Algeria. If they approve it, it still will have to be ratified by the 72-member National Council of the Algerian Revolution, a self-appointed Parliament in exile during the French-Algerian war.

Neither the rival politicians nor leaders of the 45,000-man regular army took any direct part in the three days of negotiations in the guerrilla council. As yet there was no indication of their reaction to the proposed compromise.

Algeria on Verge of Settlement

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH

ALGIERS (AP)—The leaders of Algeria's guerrilla fighters were reported today to have worked out a proposed compromise in the bitter quarrel dividing the new nation.

There was no official word of what the compromise provided. But one usually well-informed source said the guerrilla army's Council of Wilayas (zones) would propose that:

1. The government would be headed by a six-man political bureau of the National Liberation Front, the FLN, divided equally between the rival factions of moderate Premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedda and radical Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella.
2. Ben Bella would head the radicals on the Politburo, but Ben Khedda would be shelved. The moderate members would be Deputy Premiers Belkacem Krim and Mohammed Boudiaf and Interior Minister Lakhdar Ben Tobbal.
3. The Politburo would lead the FLN as a political party into the constituent Assembly elections Aug. 12, and the Assembly probably would continue it in charge of the government.

The FLN faces no substantial opposition in the elections and probably will win an overwhelming majority of the Assembly's 19 seats.

The reported compromise proposal was worked out at a meeting of the guerrilla leaders near Medea, in the mountains southeast of Algiers.

Emissaries were expected to place the proposal today before Ben Khedda's faction and Ben Bella's in Tlemcen, the dissident

Kennedy Is Certain to Take Stump

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Any questions about President Kennedy's zest for stumping in Senate and House campaigns this year was blown apart by defeat of his medical care program.

Kennedy previously had made clear he would take to the road and possibly to the television screen, in an effort to enlarge the Democrats' sometimes illusory margin in Congress. By implication, he made equally clear that he hoped to enlarge it with Democrats who could be relied on to support administration measures.

If his mind already was made up, the medical care plan's 52-48 vote loss in the Senate on Tuesday made him more determined than ever.

Aides say the President will not carry a political shotgun with him on the campaign expeditions. But he has scrutinized the roll calls carefully, not only on medical care but all the key bills—farm, tax, urban affairs department, debt limit, trade, standby public works authority, trade, aid to higher education, U.N. bonds, foreign aid.

This indicates the chief executive will be especially eager to knock off Republicans who have consistently opposed him. It also suggests he will be much more disposed to plump for faithful rather than contrary Democrats.

It does not suggest he will fail to endorse Democrats at large.

For example, he posed for campaign pictures at the White House Wednesday with 17 Democratic Senate candidates. Among the nine incumbent senators in the group were Sens. Carl Hayden of Arizona and Sam J. Ervin Jr. of North Carolina who only 24 hours earlier had voted to kill the medical care program.

Kennedy's campaign schedule is slowly being worked out. Only one date—in Chicago in October—has been announced. Before making clearly political sorties, Kennedy plans one or more "non political" journeys. This means he may appear in an area where a battle looms but will not directly advocate a candidate.

Subsequent "political" tours are likely to take him into Pennsylvania, Connecticut, California, Michigan, Kentucky and possibly Oregon, Utah and South Dakota, among others.

DOROTHY DIX

Husband Fears He'll Be Talk of the Town

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: This is the first time I ever turned to a stranger for advice. But mine is a problem impossible to discuss with my wife, minister or family doctor because the two principals, myself and this other person, are well known in this small town and sooner or later the story would leak.

I am happily married and the father of three children. The other person—a woman—is married to a close friend who is injured several years ago in an accident. As a result, he can never give his wife any children, so say the majority of doctors. An optimist holds out a remote hope, and it is to this my friend clings. It has become an obsession with him.

One night, not long since, he and his wife dropped in for a visit. While I was in the kitchen mixing drinks she joined me. Suddenly, like a bolt out of the blue, she said, as if speaking of the weather, "I want a baby. Will you father it?" I thought she'd probably had one to many, said, "Okay," and walked back to the living room with the tray of drinks.

Next day she cornered me on the way home from work. "How about that baby?" she asked. "When can we start it?" I beat a quick retreat, mumbling as I went, "I am terrified. Wherever we go, she waylays me. I love my wife and have told this other woman so. Now she threatens to drop a 'hint' to my wife if I won't live up to that 'Okay,' so lightly uttered in the kitchen. Her latest argument is that if she has a child, her husband thinking it will, will recover from his obsession. How can I extricate myself from this mess and still keep the 'friendship' of my pursuer and her poor husband? If I suggest we drop them, my wife will want to know why. —Not So Eager

Dear Not: Tell your wife. Such a situation could develop into blackmail unless faced squarely. Not knowing your wife's temperament makes it difficult to advise you specifically. But, if sufficiently broadminded, she might talk to the other woman as friend to friend and suggest she see the physician who thought it still possible for her husband to give her a child.

If this other woman continues to harass you, bluntly say that hers is a problem for the medical profession. And, if she threatens, remember the Duke of Wellington's answer to Harriet Wilson, "Sue and be damned."

Dear Helen: The boy I like is my age, 15. He telephones me only occasionally and won't talk to me in school if there's anyone else around. Do you suppose he to talk to in the presence of his friends? My mother sympathizes with me because she had a somewhat similar problem when she was a girl. —Sara

Dear Sara: Bravo for Mom! She can still remember the problems of her own youth. Too many parents never seem to recall that they, too, were once adolescents. I'm sure your mother's conclusions are sound enough to guide you. A boy of 15 is invariably a shy creature, and perhaps the only reason this one isn't over himself and this other person, are friendly in public is because he's afraid of being teased. Give him time to acquire a bit more poise.

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and address her care of this newspaper. Helpful leaflets available. Write for "Pefume Making As A Hobby."

Compromise Looms at Saskatoon

SASKATOON, Sask. (AP)—Opposing sides in the controversy over Saskatchewan's compulsory medical care program are talking compromise. But obstacles remain and the strike of most of the province's doctors continued today.

The doctors dropped their demand that the Socialist government suspend the Medical Care Insurance Act before they would consider a settlement. But they remained firm in their demands for major changes in the act before returning to normal practice. The government, however, linked modifications of the act to doctors' return to their offices. But it moved to placate the doctors on one key point by declaring it considers them free to practice outside the program.

The medical care program which went into effect July 1 covered:

The Junior Choir of Rising Star Baptist Church will sponsor a weimer roast on the church lawn tonight beginning at 6:30. The public is invited.

Coffilion Club Guest:
Attending the Fish-A-Rama at Texarkana other than club members were: Mesdames Neva Carmichael, Nathaniel Hall, Joan Hawkins, Esther Hicks, Charlie Johnson, Wilhelmina Lowe, Leona Nelson, Lucille Phillips, Christine Watkins, Claissa Yarger and Messrs. Hosea Watkins, Harold Conway, Charlie Cooper, William Smith, G. S. Williamson, D. C. Yarger, Mose Yarger, Faustine Mazuga, Miss E. L. Ford and C. B. Smith.

Others who came in during the day were Messrs. John Cavandar, Little Rock, Elwood Shannon, Miller County Agent, Alekalia Elifastli, Agriculturist from Africa who is working with Miller County agents. The young people were Misses Judy Smith of Los Angeles Jacquelyn and Linda Hicks, Master Billy Cooper, R. J. Hicks Jr. and Cedric Hawkins.

Strike at Eastern Air Nears End

GROTON, Conn. (AP)—Construction of 11 nuclear submarines was tied up today by a strike of 8,700 production workers at General Dynamics' Electric Boat Division.

The walkout began after the union workers rejected the company offer of a two-year contract providing an additional 14 cents an hour in pay and improved fringe.

The pioneer in its field, the shipyard has built 11 of the Navy's 24 commissioned nuclear submarines, including the world's first, the Nautilus.

Federal and state mediators scheduled a meeting today in an effort to bring about a quick settlement.

Involved in the dispute are 11 AFL-CIO craft unions who negotiate together as the Metal Trades Council of New London County.

The workers rejected management's latest offer Wednesday by a vote of 4,373-2,074, although it had been recommended by their negotiating committee.

The principal obstacle in the way of a settlement appears to be certain seniority provisions.

The old contract expired last Friday but the unions agreed to a temporary extension while the mediators attempted to bring both sides together.

The Polaris submarine Alexander Hamilton is scheduled for launching Aug. 4. Company officials were unable to say if the date will be kept.

The possible location of two new plants in Arkansas — to employ a total of nearly 700 persons — was announced Wednesday by the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission.

One plant would be located at Hamburg, the other at Ashdown. Both would manufacture garments. The AIDC said the name of neither firm could be disclosed.

Ashley County has scheduled a bond election late in August to finance construction of a 40,000 square foot building on an eight-acre site. The bond issue would be for between $300,000 and $350,000 the AIDC said, and require approval of a two-mill tax.

The tax would be levied only if the company fails to pay off the bonds through rent.

The AIDC said if the bonds are approved the firm will open a pilot plant in a vacant building and begin training of about 75 women employees in order to have a full staff on completion of the plant. In full production it would hire 400 to 500.

The city is to donate the site for the plant, which plans to lease the building for 20 years.

At Ashdown, voters have scheduled a bond issue to raise about $170,000 to build facilities for a plant to manufacture ladies undergarments.

"I'm sick of spending 36 hours every week at the hairdresser's!"

Shorty

A 2-Minute Story
© 1962 by NEA, Inc.

By PAULINE OTHRAUFF

I walked past Aunt Mae's house slowly—then turned and walked past again. Something was radically wrong. Aunt Mae was nowhere about. The door to her house was closed, the shades drawn, and the yard brown and sere.

Aunt Mae wasn't really anyone's aunt. She had no relatives but everyone for blocks around knew her and called her "Aunt Mae."

She lived alone and worked in the yard from morning until night, always wearing bright colored dresses and skipping around as nimbly as a teenager. If it hadn't been for her white, curling hair, no one would have guessed she was 75.

She was friendly with everyone who passed, but never went out of her own yard, not even to the grocery, and hardly ever let anyone come up on her porch or into her house. She was strong, but lovable, too.

I always stopped to chat with her and several times she asked me to come up on the porch.

Then one spring morning she invited me into her house.

She was inside and called out as I was passing, "Come on in I want to see your new bonnet."

Going from bright sunlight into the darkened house blurred my vision, and for several seconds I could barely see. However, when the interior of the house became visible, I was aware of dust everywhere. The table, chairs, everything was covered with fleecy rolls of soft dust. Even the mirror on the wall was coated with thick, gray film.

I realize that no one's house is always spotless every minute. Even the most meticulous housekeeper can be caught off-guard. But Aunt Mae's home appeared as if it had never known a dust rag. I suppose I could have excused it somehow by the darkness of the house, or something. But such an excuse seemed flimsy.

"Don't look at my house," she admonished. "I never have time to dust." (This, of course, was preposterous as she had plenty of time.)

I took off my hat and handed it to her so she could examine it. Perching it on her head, she

The AIDC said if the bonds are approved the firm will open a pilot plant in a vacant building and begin training of about 75 women employees in order to have a full staff on completion of the plant. In full production it would hire 400 to 500.

The city is to donate the site for the plant, which plans to lease the building for 20 years.

At Ashdown, voters have scheduled a bond issue to raise about $170,000 to build facilities for a plant to manufacture ladies undergarments.

Everybody Works for Yankee Win

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

It was a typical Yankee series. First they beat you with pitching. Then Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris lead you. Then, before you recover, come the boys at the bottom of the batting order beat you in another game.

That's how the New York Yankees won a three-game set from Boston, extending their winning string to seven and finishing a 12-game road trip with a 10-2 mark.

Elsdon Howard, Bill Skowron and Cleo Boyer, the sixth, seventh and eighth men in the Yankee order, took the star roles Thursday as the Yanks bombed Boston 10-6.

The pesky Los Angeles Angels and rebounding Minnesota Twins refused to yield ground, however.

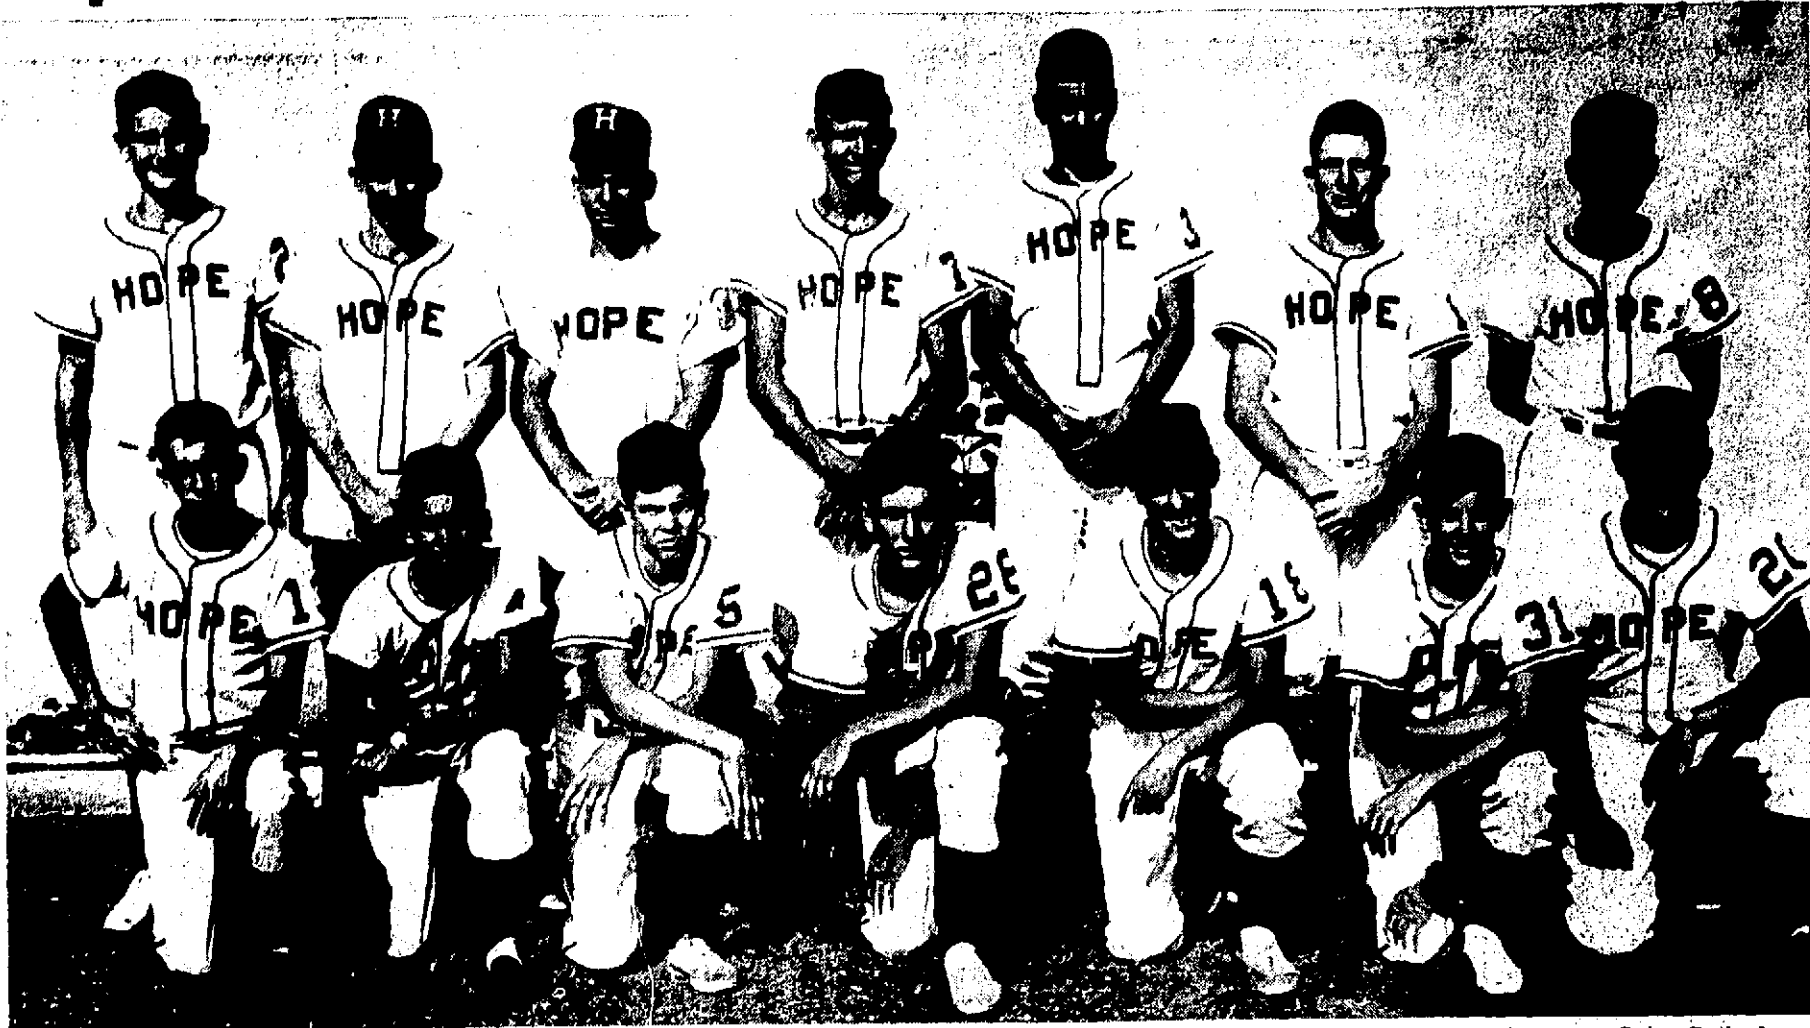

The surprising Angels remained 3½ games back with a 2-1 victory over Detroit while Minnesota got a three-hit pitching performance from Jim Kaat and two home runs from Bob Allison in an 8-0 rout of stricken Cleveland. The victory pushed Minnesota, which had entered the game in a tie with the Indians, into sole control of third place, 5½ games back.

Baltimore beat Kansas City 7-3 in the only other American League game. The Chicago White Sox and Washington were not scheduled.

In the National League, San Francisco pulled to within one game of the top, besting Milwaukee 7-3 while leading Los Angeles lost to Cincinnati 4-3. Third-place Pittsburgh advanced to within 2½ games of the top with a double-header sweep over the New York Mets 5-1 and 7-6 in 10 innings. St. Louis edged Chicago's Cubs 5-4 and Philadelphia subdued Houston 6-2.

Ralph Terry's four hit 1-0 shut-out started the Yankee stand in Boston. Mantle followed with a two measure home run and four runs batted in during a second

Bolin Is Powerhouse on Mound

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP)—San Francisco right-hander Bob Bolin is thriving on more work and helping the Giants to stick with the high-flying Los Angeles Dodgers in the National League race.

"It seems the more we use him the better he is," Manager Alvin Dark said after Bolin hurled five innings of two-hit ball in a 7-3 decision over the Milwaukee Braves Thursday.

"Bolin has been doing a great job since we started using him as a spot starter and long relief man as well as in short relief," Dark said. "He's getting the ball over now. When his curve is a little off, he still can get the fast ball over."

Bolin, a 23-year-old sophomore with the Giants, wasn't involved in a decision this season until June 27. Since then, he has won five straight and saved one game without defeat. He has started three times, going the distance once.

"When I start, it seems I can throw better in relief," Bolin said, after his third mound appearance within five days. "However, I do not have any preference for either starting or relieving. My control has improved and things have been going good."

Bolin, a native of Hickory Grove S.C., who was signed out of high school for a handful of pennies as a bonus go, joined the Giants last year after dividing 1960 with a 10-4 record with Rio Grande Valley in the Texas League and a 2-4 mark with Tacoma in the Pacific Coast League.

Pirates Win 22 of 27, Near Top

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

It is beginning to look like 1960 all over again for the aroused Pittsburgh Pirates. By winning 22 of their last 27 games, the Pirates have pulled within 2½ games of the league-leading Los Angeles Dodgers.

Danny Murteugh is using the same old reliable formula. Scramble. Never quit. Wait for the late inning home run. Then call for little Elroy Face.

Dick Stuart hit the home run and two singles, too, in the Pirates' 5-1 first-game victory Thursday night over the New York Mets. Bob Skinner contributed the game-winning homer in the 10th inning of the Pirates' 7-6 second-game victory. Bill Mazeroski, the hero of '60, hit a homer in each game.

The double victory enabled the Pirates to gain ground on both the Dodgers and the second-place Giants. When the Dodgers lost to Cincinnati 4-3, their lead shrunk to one game over San Francisco, a 7-3 winner over Milwaukee.

St. Louis also picked up a game on the Dodgers, but still trailed by 8½ in fourth place after shading Chicago 5-4.

Philadelphia continued its mastery over the stumbling Houston Colts, beating them for the 12th straight time 6-2.

In the American League, the New York Yankees battered Boston 10-6 but the Los Angeles Angels remained 3½ games back by handing Detroit its seventh straight defeat 2-1. Minnesota took over third place from Cleveland by blanking the Indians 8-0. Baltimore bombed Kansas City 7-3. Chicago and Washington were not scheduled.

The first Pirate victory was a breeze for Bob Friend, who threw a five-hitter. But the second was a different story, despite a four run Pirate spurt against loser Jay Hook in the second inning.

Pittsburgh came from behind twice to tie it up before Skinner settled matter with his home run into the left field stands leading off the 10th. Face, who took over in the ninth, won his seventh.

Brilliant relief pitching by Bou Bolin, who allowed only two hits over the last five innings, saved the day for the Giants at Milwaukee. It was his fifth straight win.

Willie Mays hit his 26th homer for the Giants, and Hank Aaron got No. 24 and Lee Maye No. 4 for the Braves.

Three passed balls by catcher Dick Bortell in the same inning gave the Cards their tie-breaking run in the seventh against the Cubs. Fred Whitfield struck out for what should have been the final out, but reached base safely on the first passed ball as Bortell was having his trouble handling Barney Schultz' knuckler. Whitfield, attempting to steal, went all the way to third on the second passed ball and scored on the third.

Ray Sadecki won in relief over Schultz. Lou Brock and Ron Santo homered for the Cubs, both off starter Ernie Broglio.

The Phillies did it again to the Colts, breaking a 2-2 tie with three in the eighth while Chris Short and Jack Baldschun held the fort in relief. Short pitched to just one man in the 7th but was the winner.
